Covered by the ban are theaters of all kinds, amusement parks, race tracks, golf courses, night clubs, skating rinks and summer camps. In all, there are 44 forbidden types of structures.

The NPA administrator, William H. Harrison, said in a statement accompanying his action that the barred construction "is of a type which does not further the defense effort, either directly or nidirectly, and does not increase the nation's productive capacity."

Persons who start other buildings which do not further the defense drive—even though not on the prohibited list—run the risk of being barred from completion of the building, Harrison said.

The car-building program is of six-months duration, but the mandatory allocation order covers only the first quarter of 1951. This will permit car builders to place orders at once, with steel deliveries beginning in January. Freight cars could begin rolling out of the shops in February or March.

And more of the same is in prospect, the bureau's latest extended 30-day forecast says.

Lilburn H. Seamon, a climatology expert in the Bureau's central of-fice here, told a reporter "it's been hotter lately in some places than all summer."

For the two-week period ending last Tuesday the average daily temperature was more than 14 degrees higher than normal in Denver, Colo.

Heavy Buying Cut

One main fact stands out—people have cut back their heavy buying because they haven't got the ready cash for higher payments or because their incomes are too low to meet the new stepped-up monthly payment terms.

That is exactly what the federal reserve aimed at with its new regulations Oct. 16, which tightened up the previous controls of Sept. 18 requiring heavier down payments and a shorter time to pay.

After less than two weeks of operating under the new controls however, the picture is far from uniform. Most heavily involved in sales declines are automobiles, sales declines are automobiles, home appliances, television sets and furniture.

Situation Complicated

And the situation is complicated by such things as war scare buying, automobile model changeovers, color television uncertainties, tomer confusion.

For instance, television set sales in New York are reported to be on the skids with some merchants

REPORTS CONFLICT ON USE OF NON-KOREAN SOLDIERS ALL WAY TO RED BORDERS

SEOUL, Korea, Friday, Oct. 27-(P)-Korean Republican troops reached the Yalu river border fronting Red China's Manchuria late Thursday.

This first arrival of United Nations forces at the sensitive frontier came amid conflicting reports whether American and other non-Korean troops would go so far north and whether the Chinese Reds were giving any open support to the North Korean Communists.

Repeated reports that non-Korean forces would stop short of the border to avoid the possibility of incidents drew this statement from Col. Noble J. Wiley, Jr., U. S. Eighth Army spokesman:

Would Use Savings. The UN peace fund which the Indians proposed could be financed by what the nations saved from an arms cut. The fund would be used to combat hunger and disease and raise the standard of living in under-developed areas.

This portion of the resolution also harked back to Truman's speech at the United Nations' fifth speech at the United Nations' fifth birthday party.

He pointed out then that the burden of maintaining vast armaments to guard against aggression is holding back plans for international reconstruction and improvement. Truman emphasized however, that the free world had no other choice until the fear of aggressions was removed.

WONSAN, Korea, Oct. 26.—(JP)
—Baffled and disgusted U. S. Marines ambled ashore here today in "Operation What-The-Hell."

That was their private description of the maneuver which sent them ashore in driblets on an east coast heach where the situation was alraedy well in hand.

"Like Army Job."

Growled Lt. Raymond J. Elledge of 728 South Tremont, San Gabriel, Calif.:

"Nobody likes to get shot at going ashore, but this isn't the way the Marine Corps works. This is more like an army job."

Said Lt. Earl R. DeLong of Norfolk, Va., and Philadelphia:

"It's this trip necessary?"

Pools were made up aboard ship each night as to what time the word would be passed to reverse course by (180) degrees. Before the actual landing the whole thing had become a huge joke.

The Marines just couldn't see landing to seize an airfield, their initial objective. which already was in operation by the First Marine air wing.

in New York are reported to be on the skids with some merchants cutting prices to encourage customers, while on the west coast in San Francisco buyers are rushing to beat the Nov. I federal 10 per cent excise tax.

Department store sales reported by the Federal Reserve Board show some key cities little affected by credit controls on total sales, but home appliances and furniture sales dropped by varying amounts.

Hardest hit, all agree, are stores specializing in credit sales on low or no down payment and a long time to pay. They had to raise their requirements, and their particular type of customer was simply priced out of the market.

At the time the first crelit regulations were put into effect Sept. 18, one group of merchants said government terms were less strict than their own. They were threatened with a loss of business to stores offering easier terms. They didn't like it. Now that terms are higher, they are satisfied, but the easy payment stores are complaining.

Range Turkey Market Open For Finished Birds

We do not believe that many toms will be ready to market until Christmas. We firmly believe that we can pay more money for finished toms in December than we can on today's market.

Nearly all hens are ready to market now and we think they should be sold as the weights are more desirable now than they will be Christmas.

If you sell us the hens we will guarantee the market for your toms when they are finished and ready for the market.

With the large crop of turkeys this year and some of last year's birds unsold—we need the Producer's co-operation to market the birds at profitable prices. If you co-operate with us we believe we can market your birds and obtain higher prices for you.

Your toms will gain weight faster for the next thirty days on the lowest price feeds—(corn, oats and finished pellets), and also consider that your cost for poults and brooding is already in the bird today and will cost no more on the last few pounds.

Please contact us when you are ready to sell and make booking as we are only buying commercial fed birds and will not be able to receive your birds not contracted in advance.

AFTER WHAT EXAMPLE?

In our rehearsals of reasons why life in Communist Russia must be very undesirable, there are some points on which we have laid heavy and repeated emphasis. It was evident in the election campaigns in the spring that few authoritive leaders of the opposition believed that the clock could be turned back, if the Conservatives won the steps of nationalization already taken could be undone. This may be all the more true of the steel industry; once it is nationalized. Britain may have it, for better or worse, whatever party may hold power in the future. Apparently the Conservatives have until next February, and perhaps no longer, to fight for private ownership of British industry.

Child Adoption Laws Assailed By Joan Crawford By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26 - (P)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26 — (F) —

Joan Crawford, mother of four adopted children, today assailed adoption laws which she said "are keeping children from finding good homes."

The question rose when the act-keeping children from Inding good homes."

The question rose when the actress was asked for comment on the recent state investigation of a Tennessee adoption agency from which Dick Powell and June Allyson and other Hollywood stars had received children.

"All I know is what I read in the papers," Miss Crawford said. "But apparently the whole thing was maneuvered for political purposes."

Politics has scared a lot of people out of adopting children, she added. She cited the California laws as being unreasonable and unfair.

added. She cited the California laws as being unreasonable and unfair.

"Most people have to go out of the state to adopt children," she said. "That means lawyers' fees here and in the other state, plane fare, nurse's salary, etc. Most people are discouraged by the expense."

pense."
Miss Crawford won't disclose where she obtained her four kids, "I figure it's nobody's business," she said. But she admitted she did not get them in California law, I couldn't adopt a child," she said, because single persons are not allowed to. I think that is wrong. There are a lot of single men and women who would like to have children and could give them good homes.

Too Many Restrictions

"California has other unreasonable restrictions. I know of one studio worker who has an adopted worker who has an adopted the for a child and wanted another for a companion. He was turned down because he was considered too old. And he was only in his low 40s.

"Prospective parents have to wait a vear or two after they apply for a child. And yet the adoption homes are filled with children. It doesn't make sense."

sall American amphibioous operations. Struble's task force including the mighty battleship Missouri, two escort carriers and a multitude of cruisers and destroyers was offshore. There was air power aplenty to bomb and fire bomb invasion beaches.

Red Positions Solld.

But the Reds would have been solidly dug in. Minefields undoubtedly would have ripped a number of ships apart.

Bad weather precluded air support—Oct. 20 was a grim, grey day.

Many invasion craft, which survived the minefields, would have been hung up on the uncharted sandbar or caught by underwater obstructions and been stranded defenseless while the enemy poured in fire.

Those Leathernecks in the assault wave who get ashore would have had to move through thickly sowed landmines, then charge into an entrenched enemy.

Luckily, the South Koreans swept up the coast and drove the Reds from Wonsan to the north.

Overflow Orowd
Tiger Field is expected to be fammed for the contest, and many will probably see the game from vantage points other than the grandstands. If steel arrived early in the week, the new section of grandstands accommodating 588 more spectators is expected to be ready for occupancy by sometime Friday. This would help the situation somewhat, but more than 6,000 fans are expected to be on hand, if the weather is good. Tiger Field

Apparently, both Waco and Corsicana are in top physical shape for the contest, unless late practice injuries turned up in either camp. Corsicana hasn't had many cripples this season, but Waco has been bothered with injuries to George Newman and Jim Wood, its first string fullback and center respectively. Both are expected to be ready for the Corsicana game. Saturday night, the Navarro Buildogs take over Tiger Field for their last non-conference game of the season.

After dropping three straight games to Kilgore, Weatherford and Cisco, Navarro has come back to decision Arlington State and Ranger. The Buildogs will especially want a win on this, the Homecoming Day.

Coaches Ken Clark and Guyle Akridge have worked for most of the past week on the Buildogs of fensive play, and their hope is that the Navarro scoring punch has been improved.

Gay Parrish and Jerry Caton have teamed to account for much of the Navarro ground yardage this year, while Ted Darland and Tommy Jordan have handled most of the passing.

In heavy crops, his tractor power flows steadily to Corn Harvester, ALL-CROP* Harvester, ROTO-BALER* or Forage Harvester. A push on the transmission clutch lever lets him stop forward motion to clear overloads without clogging, breakage or crop waste.

Ask any owner of an Allis-Chalmers WD Tractor to show you the many places where you need two-clutch control. Let him demonstrate the safety and convenience of this system where the foot-operated engine clutch stops all power outlets - pulley, hydraulic lift, power take-off and rear wheels, and the transmission clutch stops forward motion only.

PMA Conservation Practices For '51 To Be Set Friday At Panel Meetings

By CLYDE JOHNSON
Daily Sun Staff.
Conservation practices for Navarro county in 1951 will be established at a meeting of PMA committeemen in the courthouse Friday.
Informed sources say there will be no new practices. A continuation of past programs is anticipated.

pated.

Community and county committeemen will meet at 8:30 a. m. in the county courtroom, PMA Secretary Bob Clicque announced. It is the last meeting for 1950. Election of officers, slated next month, also will be discussed at the session, Clicque said.

Practices selected will be from a list of 41 recommended and approved by the Texas PMA. From this tentative draft, the local agricultural leaders will pick 12 practices.

How well the tenant-landlord lease agreement program is getting along in the county will be aired at a meeting of teachers and agricultural officials here Dec. 1. Representatives from the Veterans Agriculture School, high school vocational agriculture classes, and the Soil Conservation Service will attend the session.

Farmers may be having a tough time now with the late season, lower-grade, rough cotton; but when the harvest is completed, they can look back on probably their most all-around profitable

Fertilizing Cotton Plants Believed

Finally Solved

TEMPLE, Tex., Oct. 26—(P)—
Soil scientists apparently have finally solved the problem of how to fertilize cotton pants in the blacklands of Texas. It required the latest devices of the atomic age to do it.

soil.

The problem was this: When cotton reaches the critical fruiting stage, its roots are 18 ao 24 inches deep. How can you apply fertilizer so it will be down by the roots when it's needed?

Two Methods Tried

Scientists at the blackland experiment station near here tackled the problem this way: They obtained radioactive phosphate and applied it two ways. In one plot of ground they scattered it on top of the ground. In another plot, they placed it in bands three inches into the soil.

By willing radioactive phosphate

iment, explained the method this way:

The clover roots picked up the phosphate which was placed below the top of the soil. It distributed about one-sixth of the fertilizer down 18 or more inches—just about where cotton roots need it.

Presumably cotton plants also can take the fertilizer deep into the soil.

Where no phosphate was applied. Forage production also was remarkable. The banded plots produced nearly two and a half tons per acre, compared to a ton and a half when fertilizer was broadcast and a ton when no fertilizer was used.

Mrs. B. C. Schaefer of Palestine presided at the bride's book where guests were registered.

The bride's table was laid with a beautiful handmade cutwork and embroidered cloth in natural linen and edged with wide, handwoven lace in delicate pattern. The centerpiece was a lovely arrangoment of pink rosebuds, queen's wreath and preenery, with tapers in graduated crystal holders. Mrs. Ramon Kirgan served frozen punch and Miss Ruth Hunter served cake, assisted by Mrs. M. S. McIlveen and Mrs. Hugh Reed. Mrs. Jack Crawford and Mrs. Weldon Sawyer directed guests into the room where gifts were arranged for display.

Hostesses were Mrs. Weldon Sawyer, Mrs. M. S. McIlveen, Mrs. Emma Hill., Mrs. Jack Crawford, Mrs. H D. Reed, Mrs Ramon Kirgan, Miss Ruth Hunter and Mrs Steward.

Cheap labor, high cotton prices, and seed that practically paid for the production—plus outstanding yields—have given the farmer a harvest he should never forget.

The jingling of a telephone bell is gradually invading the farm home. However, only one REA telephone application, for $25,000, has been raroved from Texas. Fifty-seven applications have been filled by rural areas in the Lone Star State, the Associated Press reports.

By using radioactive phosphate, they could take soil samples at any depth and by use of geiger counters determine how deep the phosphate had penetrated.

Then clover was planted in the plots. Ralph J. Hervy, Blackland scientist in charge of the experiment, explained the method this way:

can take the fertilizer deep into the soil.

Fertilizing the soil in the manner may have important effects on rebiulding the soil by use of clover. The clover which was fertilized had a heavy nitrogen content, which could be plowed under to produce more plant food.

The clover plants had about 23 per cent more root growth than those fertilized by placing phosphate on top of the soil and about 50 per cent more than in plots where no fertilizer was used. This is additional help for it breaks up hard lower soil layers.

Also, the banded plots produced 117 pounds of nitrogen per acre, compared to 91 pounds in the broadcastic system and 47 pounds where no phosphate was applied.

Forage production also was remarked to the content of the soil of the soil of the soil of the production also was remarked to the content of the soil o were voted monthly salary increases of $25.

The budget for the local chapter, as approved by the board, subject to revisions by the executive committee, totals $9,020. The budget for the year which ends June 30, 1951 was $7,924.

Directors Named
Directors named for three years are Jack Sisco, retiring chairman;
Ralph Brown, George Nokes, Jr., all of Corsicana; Guy Campbell, Richland; L. V. Dunagan, Frost, and J. W. Varnell, Barry. County Judge Joe Huffstutler was elected for two years to complete the term of Smith who resigned to take the chairmanship.

The group voted to hold at least four meetings each year and set October, January, March and May as regular meeting months.

Directors who still have one year to serve are W. B. Levy, F. B. McKie, Mrs. Jack Cunningham, Jay Silverberg, Tom Spikes, all of Corsicana, and Mrs. Pone Estes, Roane.

A Better Mousetrap!

"They're not the best-looking boarders a man ever had," Hack Turner said one day, "and they've got awful tempers. But I've found it pays to have 'em around."

Hack was talking about a family of barn owls, nesting in his silo this year. Some folks believe those little white-faced screechers kill chickens-and ought to be shot on sight. But Hack disagrees.

"Up at State University they've studied barn owls for years - and never known one to eat a chicken. On the other hand, a daddy owl will clean up around 300 mice a month. Farmers that kill barn owls are throwing away the best mousetraps known to man!"

From where I sit, when someone shows a prejudice against any group of animals or humans-it's usually just based on misunderstanding. For instance, some folks are plumb intolerant about those of us who enjoy an occasional quiet glass of beer. Get to really know us and you're liable to find we're pretty good birds at that !

State Home Lads Play Lions In Feature Contest

Tie Games Rule Half Game Won, Lost This Year

The undisputed leadership of District 22-B will be on the line Friday night at Lion Field in Blooming Grove when the State Home Lads, defending champions, meet the Blooming Grove club, pre-season and present favorite for the title. State Home has copped the pennant the past two years and has two conference wins to no defeats as has Blooming Grove:

Blooming Grove and State Home became the undisputed leaders Tuesday when L. L. Wilkes, Hub-bard superintendent and district executive committee chairman, re-vealed that the scoreless tie last Friday night between Hubbard Jaguars and the Kerens Bobcats runner-up club in the district the past two years, counts a half game won and a half game lost in the percentage instead of the penetration and first down rule. (Had the penetration rule been in force, Kerens would have won).

Black Gives Record
Wilkes received a letter from

Psychology Plays Important Part In Your Affairs

More and more people in the business world are beginning to realize that psychology plays an important part in their affairs, So said Dr. Lawrence H. Fleck, dean of the Business Administration School at Southern Methodist University, to Corsicana Rotarians, Wednesday.

Dr. Fleck said there were two methods used in dealing with human beings. One, he said, is by argument or reasoning, and the second is by suggestion. Argument, the speaker said, gives a person a chance to deliberate and make a choice, while suggestion causes people to act on hunches and without delibera-

Richland Couple Sunday Observes 67th Anniversary

The 67th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Chumney, long-time Richland residents, will be observed with open house at the home of their grandson, Willard Chumney, at Richland, Sunday, 2 to 4 p. m. All of their friends are invited.

The couple were married in Tennessee, Nov. 22, 1883, and came to Texas soon after the ceremony. They have made their home 2 1-2 miles south of Richland for the past 56 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Chumney are charter members of the Richland Methodist church and were active until the past few years.

Mr. Chumney was 85 years old Tuesday and Mrs. Chumney was 83 last June 26. The grandson is their only living descendant.

State President To Visit Rebekahs

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(P)—
The defense program here at home—called the mobilization program—has been under way a little more than a month.

But the odds are that by now you're pretty foggy on a lot of it. And no wonder. A lot of stuff has been pouring out of here every

A new step here, a new agency there, a new agency head. After a while it gets too piled up for any newspaper reader to keep the whole picture clear.

So, just as a refresher, here's a quick run-down on the way the program had been put in motion on Sept. 1 Congress passed the Defense Production Act to give the government power to set up rules for avoiding inflation while at the same time getting arms produced without weakening the civilian economy.

On Sept. 8 President Truman signed the act into law, Since then he has followed two major

1. In most cases he has depended on the regular government de-partments or agencies, already in existence, to handle the different parts of the problem.

2. He created one important new agency-the Economic Stabilization agency (ESA)—to handle price and wage controls, if they become nec-

2. Price Stabilization Board. This 2. Price Stabilization Board. This board is to serve in the price field the same advisory job to Valentine as Ching's board. So far no director has been named for this.

The rest of the jobs were undertaken by existing agencies.

Here's the top lineup:

It's job is to tell industry certain things it must and mustn't do. For instance, it has told manufacturers who get contracts from the military services that defense orders get priority over any peacetime production.

27 The Interior Department's regular job anyway is in the fields of oil, gas, minerals, mining, electric power. Secretary of the Interior Chapman has set up two agencies in his department:

Curbs Necessary WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(P)— The Agriculture Department's cotton export limitation order should be relaxed further, Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) of the Sentence of the Sentenc ate Agriculture committee said today.

He contended the department did not go far enough early this week when it increased the export quota from $2,000,000 to 2,146,000 bales for the eight months ending March

May Lose Markets.

The department should set aside sufficient cotton to take care of domestic demands, then probate the remainder for export to foreign countries, he told a reporter. Drastic limiting of exports eventually would mean loss of the natually would mean loss of the na-tion's established foreign cotton markets, Thomas said.

There have been some estimates that 11,000,000 bales will take care of annual domestic needs, even in war time, the senator said. This year's production is estimated at 9,800,000 bales, with a carryover from previous years of 6,846,000 bales, making a total of 16,646,000.

Below World Price.

Thomas expressed belief that a 2,000,000 bale carryover might be satisfactory. This would permit export of some 4,000,000 bales, he added.

Unnecessarily high carryover war time, the senator said added.

Unnecessarily high carryover stocks in this country tend to depress domestic cotton prices, Thomas said.

The government, he continued, should "not try to keep U. S. cotton prices ten to twenty cents below the world price level," which he said is around 50 cents a pound. ROBBERY STORY HOAX

Books Ancient And Modern Needed For Christian Growth

Reading and Meditation Play Important Part In Character Cultivation—Our Age a Reading Age—More Discrimination Needed To Separate the Clean From the Unclean

By EARLE L. DOUGLASS

Who buys all the books that are written today? Sometimes we wonder. Book clubs balore carry on a thriving business in every large city. Even to the most remote corners of the country expensive books, many of them dealing with matters which require considerable educational background on the part of the reader go out every day. Our age is not only literate: it is an age which has a passion for books and which reads all varieties.
